

```
fake_cube_perception
_node.FakePerceptionNode.
    __init__
```

The diagram illustrates a self-call or initialization process. A blue curved arrow originates from the top right of the box and points to the `__init__` method of the `FakePerceptionNode` class. The text inside the box is formatted to show the class hierarchy and the specific method being called.